

Blessed!

MARTHA BARTHOLOMEW

*Blessed
on this dark cold morning, yet, whose daylight may reveal the first Kiss of Frost Kiss of death – Kiss of life – for those who long for leaf crunch beneath their feet
and splash!
a full fall palette spilled on what has diminished – the dusty, dull, dry canvas of summer*

Martha Bartholomew, Doctor of Ministry, is a retreat guide and spiritual companion from her home, Siloam Retreat House of Prayer, near Dundee, Illinois. She has studied art, religious studies, and spirituality. She is a wife, mother, grandmother, godmother and associate member of the Sinsinawa Dominicans. She is the author of Turned Corners and Juniper Berries: A Poet's Pages for a Reader's Pen (Chicago: Sakura Press, 2001).