

Gazing

GEORGENE WILSON

*Gazing tutors
Watchful stillness,
Waiting emptiness,
Welling compassion.*

*It's like whale watching:
Sometimes the ancient depths take on matter, surface and kiss me.
Sometimes there's no-thing to see.*

Atlantic Ocean; photo, Cetta Kenney

*Georgene Wilson is a Franciscan sister and neighborhood anchoress (a contemplative solitude minister).
She is Poetry Editor of Interreligious Insight.*